

From: NC Policy Watch [info@ncpolicywatch.com]
Sent: 10/27/2017 10:19:56 AM
To: Stallard, Lorea A [/o=ExchangeLabs/ou=Exchange Administrative Group (FYDIBOHF23SPDLT)/cn=Recipients/cn=742fa809a86c430383d6707ebab07599-lastallard]
Subject: [External] Awash in pollution: Restoring North Carolina's sick rivers to health will require a major policy about-face

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the organization. Do not click links or open attachments unless you verify that the attachment and content are safe. Send all suspicious email as an attachment to report.spam@nc.gov.

NC POLICY WATCH

Stories & voices that matter.

Awash in pollution: Restoring North Carolina's sick rivers to health will require a major policy about-face

By Lisa Sorg

Kemp Burdette, the Cape Fear Riverkeeper: "I'm raising my two daughters on the river. They drink the water every day. That fact worries me." (Photo: Cape Fear River Watch)

Like most people who grow up on the water, Kemp Burdette is different from his landlocked friends. Undeterred by dampness, wary but not terrified of alligators, he is in tune with the calm and the fury of the Cape Fear River. He has paddled its entire 202-mile length. He knows every bend from its headwaters in Hayward, at the border of Lee and Chatham counties, to its mouth at the Atlantic Ocean.

He grew up in Wilmington and has spent nearly his entire life there, drinking the city's water, which comes from the river, every day. The river literally is part of him. His family is raising their two young daughters in Wilmington. The river is also part of them.

His experience with the Cape Fear brought him to Raleigh yesterday, where he urged the House Select Committee on River Quality to more stringently regulate industry and the contaminants they routinely discharge in the state's waterways. "The way we regulate contaminants is like Russian roulette," Burdette said. "We should require industry to show their waste streams don't endanger human health and the environment. The state may warrant stronger protections than at the federal level."

It's unfortunate that besides the committee chairs and co-chairs, only four of the nine members of the rank-and-file membership -- Representatives Pricey Harrison, Jimmy Dixon, Bob Steinburg and Bill Brisson -- were present for Burdette's speech. Because the legislature, particularly in the past six years, has routinely passed laws that have weakened environmental protections. [\[Read more...\]](#)

Progressive Pulse Blog:

- Want a better economy? Make sure wealthy residents pay their fair share
- Dan Forest: Making nice with frightening religious extremists
- Federal court appoints special master to decide if NC racial gerrymanders remain unconstitutional
- Editorial: "Public outrage" required to get legislative leaders to act on GenX pollution
- Texas abortion case highlights the dystopian world Trump and his religious right allies would implement
- Pipeline builders' group starts "incident database" to track protests

Daily Radio Commentary:

- Progress and human rights for LGBT North Carolinians

Daily News:

- House Passes Budget Blueprint, Clearing Path for Tax Overhaul
The New York Times
- DeVos's Schedule Is Heavy on Religious and Charter Schools
The New York Times
- Stanford law professor could help draw NC legislative districts
Raleigh News & Observer
- Judges to hire expert to aid evaluating N Carolina districts
A.P./WRAL.com
- Judges want independent expert to look at NC legislative maps
WRAL.com
- Leader of church at center of scandal attends fundraiser for Lt. Gov. Forest
Raleigh News & Observer
- Legislators grapple with science, scope, of industrial chemicals in NC water
WRAL.com
- Gov. Cooper must give fired state workers their jobs back, judge rules
Raleigh News & Observer
- Governor Roy Cooper announces 47 new jobs at Mars Hill's Advanced Superabrasives facility
Mountain Xpress
- Trump holding back some JFK files, others are out
Raleigh News & Observer
- NC's growing trash problem poses challenge
WRAL.com
- New Wilmington pre-K classrooms give kids a head start
Wilmington Star News
- A World War II veteran from Canton receives a big honor
Asheville Citizen Times
- Thom Tillis to host bipartisan dog costume party for the Senate
USA Today

Daily Editorials:

- King Berger: 'Will no one rid me of these meddlesome judges?'
Raleigh News & Observer
- Tillis reveals ruthless ends-justify-the-means reign in legislature
WRAL.com
- Funding will be needed to battle opioid epidemic
Wilmington Star News
- Prison safety needs review
The Fayetteville Observer
- Campaign dirt may backfire in city elections
The Fayetteville Observer
- Access for all
Journalnow.com
- Charlotte has two capable candidates for mayor. We think one has the edge
Charlotte Observer
- 70 seconds, five lives
Greensboro News & Record

Our work is supported by readers like you.

Help us to continue expanding our aggressive reporting and thoughtful commentaries. Make a tax-deductible financial contribution today!

Donate

Follow us on Facebook and Twitter: To get regular updates from NC Policy Watch, you can now follow us on Facebook and Twitter.

Join the policy debate at The Progressive Pulse blog.

---

NC Policy Watch is a project of the North Carolina Justice Center.
© 2016 NC Policy Watch | 224 S. Dawson Street, Raleigh, NC 27601

You are receiving this email because you signed up online or at an in-person event with NC Policy Watch or the NC Justice Center. You may also be receiving this email because you registered to attend one of our events. To stop receiving this email, simply click here to unsubscribe or here to manage your subscription.

empowered by  salsa